Topics of the day: Different shades of marigold

The color orange is undoubtedly the most widespread in the field of carnival glass. Through this theme, we will try to compare all the shades that can be associated with it and the particular characteristics of the producing companies.

The terms most often associated with this color are: Pastel marigold, Clambroth, light or pale marigold, peach opalescent, marigold and pumpkin.

Conscious that more than 50% of the collection of each of us is certainly in these colors, we hope that you will have several items that will represent these nuances and allow to deepen this study.
